

"Not all those who wander are lost"...in the spring we will wander to a place where there is no frost.

To find the next clue look for something on Boo!

Where we go, you will see a volcano...but to get there we must travel on a plane, yo!

Take the keys for the locks and check the mailbox!

Blue oceans and green trees! We will swing through the forest like monkeys!

Dad's belly may be like jelly, but what is in the front seat of Ellie?

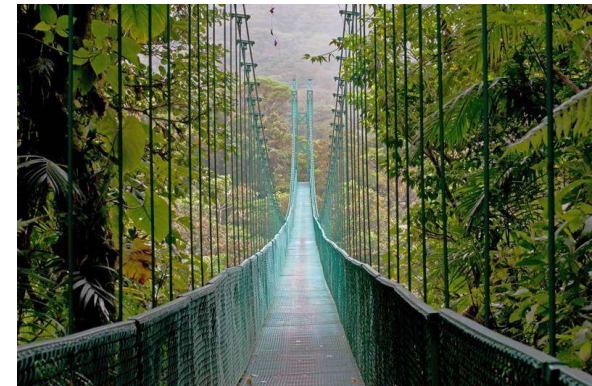

We will leave our turf! Are you ready to learn how to surf?

My love for all of you grows daily, but why don't you check the house of Bailey!

Are you ready to go...or should I say vamanos? Great! Because I love you all the most!

Enough of these hints...where do we put our extra cents?

For this last gift of Christmas...I give you a trip to an isthmus.

My sweet esposa, chico, and chica in 2017 we wander to...

Costa Rica!

Bonus...In March our Boo turns 10...In a treehouse we will find her birthday Zen!
